The Scalar Philosophy

Since 1958 the yacht and boat dockyard Henningsen and Steckmest has had the concept of first-class yacht building from Kappeln/ Grauhöft near the Schlei. Up until the 80's many complete mahogany yachts by famous designers were built.

Almost all these yachts are still in good shape today und have very proud owners.

Since 1973 Scalar-yachts and of new Scalar-speedsters are built in this tradition – naturally only on order and handcrafted. Now our hulls are handcrafted in GFK and varnished.

Apart from the hull all the other elements of the boats, such as cockpit and furnishing are constructed of wood, although this is done in accordance with the newest knowledge in this field – unique in batch building.

You will experience the feeling of sailing a wooden yacht without the complications of a wooden hull. Every Scalar is only built when ordered and is constructed over a time span of 6-8 months by our wood craftsmen.

As the owner you are always welcome to visit the dockyard, so as to experience how your Scalar is produced by our craftsmen, accurately built, varnished and conserved.

In this tradition the Scalar-Speedster is built with its classic lines and will inspire you with its brilliant performance.
